

Beneficiary rights:

The nurse must take into account the following rights of the beneficiary (patient):

- A- Receiving care with care, respect and dignity.
- B- Knowing his diagnosis and all procedures and their impact on his health.
- C- Refusal of any health procedure he receives.
- D- Choosing the nurse who provides the necessary nursing procedures.
- E- Maintaining his health and other secrets and keeping the information in special files that only he can see Health team members.
- F- Knowing and requesting the services available in the institution.
- G- Refusing or accepting to participate in research conducted at the institution.
- H- Continuity of nursing care inside and outside the institution.
- I- Knowledge of the general regulations and instructions in the hospital, which are related to providing health care to it.
- J- Practicing one's religious rituals.

Among the collective rights of the team:

- A. Not exploiting work time for personal gain
- B. Failure to prioritize the personal interest over the public interest, such as: absence without permission, or excessive absence For the permitted time, or shopping during work hours, or visiting friends or colleagues...etc
- C. Not to exploit the working conditions of colleagues who work in emergency situations such as war Or bad weather conditions, or inability to reach the workplace.